Proposed Constitutional Amendment, Providing For the Election of United States Senators Up In the Senate and Caused Some Bad Feeling to Arise-Hoar Opposed to Plan.

Washington, April 16 .- During almost the entire session today the senate had under consideration the Alaskan civil code bill. The amendment providing for the mining of gold along the beach in the district was perfected after a discussion lasting nearly four hours. The amendment as finally agreed to and incorporated in the bill is as follows:

"That, subject only to general limitations that may be necessary to exempt navigation from artificial obstructions, all lands and shoal waters below mean high tide on the shores, bays and inall lands and shoal waters below mean high tide on the shores, bays and inlets of Bering sea, within the jurisdiction of the United States, shall be subject to exploration for gold and other precious metals by citizens of the United States, persons who have legally declared their intentions to become such, under such reasonable rules and regulations as the miners in organized mining districts may have come such, under such reasonable rules and regulations as the miners in or-ganized mining districts may have have heretofore made, or may hereafter make, governing the temporary possession thereof for exploration and mining purposes, until otherwise provided by law.

Industry After War Is Over. New York, April 16.-A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: While there is a complete shrinkage of war news, there is much quiet discussion among South Africans in London respecting the future of mining industries after the close of hostilities. Mr. Rhodes has been conferring with Alfred Best and other large capitalists, but his views are not known. Mine owners are reticent from a good cause, for they know from the speeches of for they know from the speeches of the chancellor of the exchequer and the tone of the press that there is a delib-
